OPEN/THEME/HOMEWORK REVIEW

10"

Welcome

- I am so glad to be back together this week.

Theme of the Week

- The theme today is Aligning Your Heart; we'll identify your key values and how they can impact your giving.
- We want you to experience the joy as you fully align your purpose, passion, values and calling in your life.
- We'll have two story videos this week—one on being unique and one on leveraging generational wealth.

Homework Review

- Before we start, let's talk about this past week's homework.
- Do you have any questions about last week's session, Applying Your Purpose?
- How did your week go – were you able to apply your purpose to your giving; did you identify any areas where your giving was off purpose?
- Your homework was to complete the values cards and we'll begin with an exercise on those.

Exercise - VALUES CARD SORT

15”

Overview the session...

- Now we're going to talk about our values.
- Values are foundational for your life—and like purpose, they remain relatively “fixed.”
- They are formed early—mostly when we're under 10 and are like sponges, they adjust some as preteens when we copy adults, and a little more in our teens as we are socialized.
- Values are really important, because they are the foundation of the choices we make and the direction our lives take.
- They generally reflect who we want to “be.”
- Values are neutral—not necessarily good or bad, but they are yours.

Directions for the Exercise

- You all did Values Card Exercise.
- You sorted the cards into three piles: Very Important to Me, Important to Me, and Not Important to Me.
- You then selected the top ten Very Important to Me.
- Then you narrowed that to the top five.
- Please capture your top five in your Participant Notes.

Facilitate Discussion, Affirming Women as They Contribute

- I'd like each of you to share your five and how one of them shows up in your life.

Exercise

(This exercise is a deck of cards and is not included in the Facilitator Guide.)
